SEYMORE, INDIANA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1910.

PRICE TWO CENTS

BIG LOSS CAUSES MUCH COMMENT

Many Believe Mistake Has Been Made in Census Report or in Enumeration of Jackson County.

OTHER COUNTIES SHOW LOSSES

School Enumeration Shows Decrease of One Thousand in Past Thirteen Years.

The census report of the population of Jackson county as published in the Republican Wednesday showing a loss of 1,906 from ten years ago has caused much comment in this city. People generally believe there has been a mistake made either in the taking of the census or in the report. It is known that many people were missed in Seymour as after the completion of the work quite a large number names of persons who were not enumerated were reported. In one case a rooming house at which between fifteen and twenty men were living was overlooked entirely. It is thought a considerable number were missed out in the county.

A glance over the report of the population of the different counties of the state as given out by the census bureau Wednesday evening however, shows that in its loss Jackson county has plenty of company. In fact 55 of the 92 counties of the state show losses. The counties making up the large part of Indiana's gain of 18,441 are the ones having large cities, Vigo with Terre Haute, Lake with Gary and Hammond, Allen with Ft. Wayne, and Marion with Indianapolis showed a gain of over 15,200. The most of the counties in Southern Indiana having gains were in the coal mining sections. Bartholomew showed a gain of only 219, Jennings lost 1,554, Brown with a population of 7,975 lost 1,752, Washington lost 1,964, Scott gained 23 and Lawrence 4,896, Jefferson lost 2,430, Ripley lost 429. The fourth district as a whole showed a loss. It is known from reports of city and town populations made this far that in some cases the county seats show good gains and the country losses. There is a tendency of people to go to the cities. In the last few years a campaign has been inaugurated with the slogan "Back to the Farm," the purpose being to stop the move from farm to town. In some sections as in Jackson many farmers have moved to the towns and cities and gone to newer sections in the west. Families are smaller and of course in rural sections, where there is no increase on account of factories and mines the population shows the decrease more some time ago. Supt. Payne of the county schools, stated that in Jackson county there had been a steady decrease in the number of school children the past ten years; that the enumeration shows 1,000 less than there were 13 years ago when he became superintendent. This would help to show a decrease in population. No word has been received from the count in Seymour but it is confidently believed that in spite of the decrease in the county and the fact that many persons are known to have been overlooked in taking the census, that the city will show a substantial increase in population. A great many houses have been built in the city in the past ten years, there are practically no vacant houses in the city and the number of single men employed on the railroads and living here is greatly in excess of the number ten years ago.

As to the county report few people believe it correctly gives the county population.

Artist Recital.

Miss Agnes Lapman, a student of Dr. Jedlicka of Berlin and Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, is one of the most prominent of the American Pianists and has had a wide experience as a soloist and recitalist. She is endowed with a splendid physique, musical temperament and has the happy faculty of becoming immediately in rapport with her audience. She will be heard at the Majestic Theatre Monday night, November 21st.

Funeral Services.

The funeral services of the late Adam Oliver, were held from the Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock, and were largely attended. Father C. J. Conrad officiated at the services. Burial at the Catholic cemetery.

MR. AND MRS. G. C. RUDDICK ARE PAINFULLY BURNED

Wife's Dress Skirt Caught Fire, But Husband Successfully Extinguished Flames.

Mrs. George C. Ruddick was painfully burned Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock when her dress skirt caught fire while she was standing near a small heater at her home near Farmington. As soon as she noticed that her clothes were on fire she called to her husband who was in the house and he successfully extinguished the flames, but not until she was seriously burned about the body. She is also suffering from several deep burns on the right hand and wrist.

In his effort to put out the flames, Mr. Ruddick was also painfully burned about the face and hands. While his injuries are not thought to be seriously it will be some time before he can use either hand and he is suffering considerably from the burns.

It was very fortunate that Mrs. Ruddick could be given immediate assistance for she says that under all probability she would not have been able to extinguish the flames herself and would probably have been seriously and perhaps fatally injured.

Mr. Ruddick is a nephew of Dr. L. Ruddick of this city.

Thanksgiving Turkeys.

But two days remain in which to dress Thanksgiving turkeys for eastern markets. The price has been unusually high for November.

A much larger proportion of turkeys are being held for December market which will have a tendency to make lower values after this week.

What turkeys are not sold this week should be fed corn heavily for the early December market.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE

Thermometer Registered Less Than 18 Degrees Wednesday Night.

The government thermometer registered a temperature of a fraction less than eighteen degrees Wednesday evening, which was the lowest for this fall. Several weeks ago the temperature fell to nineteen degrees. While the temperature was the lowest last night, the thermometer only showed twenty-seven degrees this morning.

This time last year the weather was very moderate and the thermometer on November 16th registered a minimum temperature of 59 and a maximum of 72 degrees. Reports indicate that the winter will be dry and cold and that the cold weather will be continuous until late in the spring.

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO SETTLE STRIKE

New Superintendent of Motive Power Department Will Make Proposition to Strikers.

NEW TERMS ARE PROPOSED.

A. P. Prendergast Appointed to Position Formerly Held by John Hair.

Mentalo.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday announced the appointment of A. P. Prendergast, Master Mechanic at the Mt. Clare shops, Baltimore, as Superintendent of Motive Power at Cincinnati. He succeeds John Hair, resigned, who is well known by the employees of the road in this city.

Mr. Prendergast passed through Seymour Wednesday night on his way to Washington, where the principal shops of the Southwestern are located.

It is understood that he will present a proposition to the striking machinists of the road that will end the strike at Washington, Flora, Ill., Chillicothe, Ohio, and Cincinnati. Some few weeks ago the road, through General Superintendent of Motive Power Hair, presented an agreement to the strikers. The men at Chillicothe voted to return to work, but the men at Washington, by a vote 20 to 10, refused to agree to a settlement of the strike unless the terms were more clearly defined by Mr. Hair. Since then the matter of settlement has hung fire.

The main objection that the men had to settle according to a dispatch from Cincinnati, was that the road officials did not state definitely whether the piece work, instead of the day system, would be put in force in the shops. The men walked out about a year ago in sympathy with the men on the Baltimore and Ohio main line, who struck when an attempt was made to introduce the piece-work system. Both strikes are still in progress.

It was intimated last night that the Southwestern will agree to take the men back on the day-work basis, and that terms of settlement will be presented today at Washington, where Mr. Prendergast will be met by General Superintendent C. W. Galloway, who has been making an inspection trip over the Southwestern this week in company with President Daniel Willard. The strikes in Flora, Chillicothe and this city will also receive copies of the road's proposition within a day or two, and it is expected that the "trouble" will soon be a thing of the past on the Southwestern.

General Superintendent Galloway has been in his position about six weeks and has made great progress in clearing the congestion along the line. This congestion was due, to a great degree, to the strike, as it was found impossible to keep the motive power in condition for heavy traffic. Locomotives would start out with long strings of cars, but would have to drop off cars at sidings along the line of the road. The yards at Chillicothe and Flora were badly congested, while passenger trains were running behind schedule time.

Mr. Galloway, by working on an average of 18 to 20 hours a day, gradually brought the road to a standard of efficiency. It is admitted by all the officials of the B. and O. S-W. that conditions will improve with the settlement of the strike, as these men will rapidly put the motive power in first-class condition.

It is expected that President Willard, who is now at St. Louis, will pass through Seymour after the American Railway Association, of which he is President, completes its work. This organization, which consists of operating heads of all the railroads of the United States, held its semi annual meeting in the Mound City Wednesday, at which the policy of the roads of this country and Canada, in regard to operating service, was outlined. Mr. Willard may join General Superintendent Galloway and Superintendent of Motive Power Prendergast at Washington today.

SOUTHERN INDIANA IDEAL PLACE FOR VINEYARDS

State Entomologist, Believes Farmers Would Find Cultivation of Grapes Profitable.

D. W. Douglass, state entomologist, believes that Southern Indiana is an ideal place for the cultivation of grapes and is of the opinion that the farmers in this part of the state would find large vineyards very profitable.

There is no soil reason and no climatic reason why Indiana should not grow grapes for Indiana consumers, according to Mr. Douglass, who has included in his annual report a large number of pages devoted to grape culture. With the same attention given to grape growing as is given to growing corn, wheat or oats, Mr. Douglass contends, as in the case of the apple, that the Indiana land owner can realize large profits from vineyards properly cared for.

In his examination of the vineyards of the state in preparation for his report, Mr. Douglass found that few land owners save in parts of the southern districts of the state, give any great amount of attention to grape growing.

True, virtually every farmer has a small grape arbor which supplies a few grapes for home use, but very few of them have attempted to grow grapes either for market or for wine making.

Many Southern Indiana slopes, Mr. Douglass found, could be well utilized for growing grapes for commercial purposes.

N. Kaufman, of the Gold Mine, returned from St. Louis Wednesday evening where he attended the big Rice Six Dry Goods Co.'s, million dollar sale of the stock of goods of the Laurenstein Co., of Memphis, Tenn. This was the most remarkable sale ever pulled off in this country, buyers being there from all parts of the United States. Of the Gold Mine syndicate, representatives were among the buyers from their stores at Terre Haute, Bedford, Seymour and Alpine, Mich.

OBITUARY.

Margurite Charlotte (Brockneit) Cordes was born in Germany, September, 1843, and died at Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 10, aged 70 years. The deceased came to this country and settled in Jackson county at the age of eight years. In 1858 she was united in marriage to Richard Hercamp; to this union were born seven children, two of whom and her husband are dead. In 1875 she married Henry Forder, and to this union were born one son, Frank, who died with them at the time of her death. Mrs. Cordes was a member of the German Lutheran church and was respected by all who knew her.

Mrs. Cordes had been confined to her bed with an attack of typhoid fever, which developed into cancer of the bowels, from which she suffered for seven weeks. Throughout her suffering she was patient, never voicing a word of complaint. She will be missed on account of her kindness and hospitality.

The deceased leaves a husband and six children: Mrs. August Vornholz, Mrs. Annie Rust, William, George and Richard Hercamp and Frank Cordes, besides a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services Tuesday at 11 a.m. at Borcher's church, of which she had been a member.

A. J. Pellens Drug Store is so confident that ZEMO will rid the skin or scalp of infant or grown person of pimples, blackheads, dandruff, eczema, prickly heat, rashes, hives, ivy poison or any other form of skin or scalp eruption, that they will give your money back if you are not entirely satisfied with the results obtained from the use of ZEMO.

The first application will give prompt relief and show an improvement and in every instance where used persistently, will destroy the germ life, leaving the skin in a clean, healthy condition.

Let us show you proof of some remarkable cures made by ZEMO and give you at 32 page booklet how to preserve the skin. A. J. Pellens Drug Store.

Chocolate Fruit Cake.

Beat one-third cupful of butter to a cream and two yolks of eggs until thick and light colored. Beat one-half cupful of sugar into the butter and one-half cupful of sugar into the yolks, then beat the two together. Add one-half cupful of hot mashed potato, one ounce or square of chocolate melted over hot water, then one-fourth cupful of sweet milk and one cupful of sifted flour, sifted again with one and three-fourths teaspoonsful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and mace and one-fourth teaspoonful of cloves. Add one-half cupful of seeded raisins cut in pieces and, lastly, the whites of two eggs beaten dry.

A Household Medicine

to be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. A. J. Pellens.

Oath That Binds the Burmese.

Perjury having been rife in Rangoon courts because no form of oath existed which the Burman considered binding, the government prescribed a formula which is a queer admixture of Buddhism, Brahmanism and Shamanism. Here are phrases from it, picked at random: "If an untruth passes my lips, may all the gnats that live in lakes, ponds and brooks and the gnats of the five great rivers of India destroy me. May curdled blood pass my lips rather than a lie, and may I die vomiting blood, my body bent in two."

Sick Headache.

This distressing disease results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Get a free sample at Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.'s drug store and try it.

Providing For The Future.

"Why do you insist on taking that youngster's photograph every few weeks?"

"After he has plunged into the hardships and responsibilities of mature life he can take the pictures out and look at 'em. When he sees how his mother used to dress him and cut his hair he'll feel more resigned to being grown up."—Washington Star.

Good Results Always Follow

the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They are upbuilding, strengthening and soothing. Tonic in action, quick in results. A. J. Pellens.

Appearances Deceive.

Sometimes when a girl looks sweet enough to eat she is hungry enough to bite her hat.—Galveston News.

Makes blood and muscle faster than any other remedy. Gives health, strength and vitality. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea towers above all other remedies for making sick people well, and well people "weller." Take it tonight. Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

Crossing the Alps.

The first historic crossing of the Alps was accomplished by the great Hannibal in B. C. 218.

We're sorry if you've tried other medicines and they failed. As a last resort try Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's a simple remedy, but it's worked wonders, made millions well and happy. Purifies the blood, makes flesh and muscle, cleanses your system. Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

Wants to Do It Himself.

The man that feels like being kicked seldom allows another the pleasure of doing it.—Widow.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

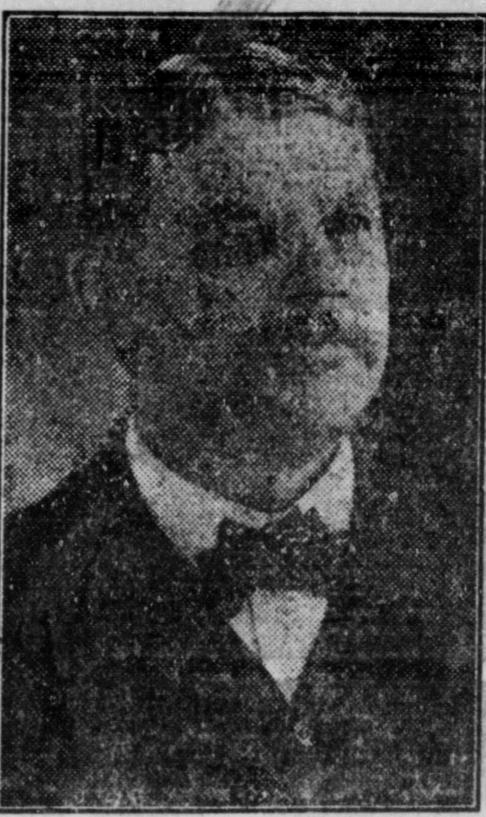

Feudist Still at Large.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—Bad Jake Noble, the Breathitt county outlaw, has again eluded pursuit. Report that he had killed two men and wounded others and been himself wounded near Sayersville was definitely established as untrue.

PROHIS LOSE OUT

They Are No Longer the "Third" Party in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Nov. 17.—The complete official returns from the election of last week, as compiled by the state canvassing board, show Indiana to have a new third party, the honor which for years was held by the Prohibition party having passed to the Socialist party. The returns show Sherman H. Jones, Socialist party candidate for secretary of state, polled 19,632 votes, while George Hitz, Prohibition candidate for the same office, polled only 17,024. The gain in the Socialist vote over 1908 is 7,494, while the Prohibitionists lost five votes.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR COLD-BLOODED CRIME

Ben Noble Pleaded Guilty to Murder of Employer.

Greensburg, Ind., Nov. 17.—Ben Noble, who confessed having shot to death Albert Sprague, a farmer, at his home near this city on the night of July 17, was sentenced to prison for life. Noble's crime was one of the coldest blooded murders that has been committed in this county. After a quarrel with Sprague, his employer, over wages, he shot Sprague to death while the latter was lying asleep beside his wife. In his confession a few days after the crime Noble said he wished to teach farmers to keep the contracts made with their help.

Overcame Serious Obstacle.

Marietta, Ga., Nov. 17.—His train stopped by a burning trestle, the Rev. Dr. B. F. Frazer, presiding elder of the Augusta district of the Southern Methodist church, after crawling over blazing timbers, mounted the cab of a special locomotive on the Seaboard Air Line and was rushed on to Marietta in order that he might preach the funeral sermon of United States Senator Clay. It was Senator Clay's wish that Dr. Frazer officiate, and the latter was summoned from Athens, where he was attending a conference. He reached here just in time to officiate.

Champion Cornhusker.

Kewanee, Ill., Nov. 17.—On his record of picking and cribbing over 1,000 bushels of corn in eight days, Porter C. Funderberg is laying claim to the championship of the state as a corn picker. He can husk and crib 150 bushels of corn in ten hours, and will do better, he says, if pushed.

The Perils of the Gridiron.

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Frank Sheehan, a halfback of the Virtus football team of this city, is in a critical condition in his home here following an accident when Sheehan was knocked unconscious during a scrimmage. He is suffering from concussion of the brain.

Made Careful Plans.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 17.—Chris Frederick, a retired farmer, bought a cemetery lot and monument and mailed a check to an undertaker with instructions to find his body on the lot. Frederick's body was found with a bullet in the brain.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A MOTHER'S UNION.

There is room for a new labor union. It might be named the Amalgamated Mothers and Housekeepers' Solidarity of the World.

It would comprise in its membership the largest number of skilled wage earners (without salary) in existence—the women who keep house and rear children.

The hours of labor would be restricted to twenty-four in one day.

And the salary?

The free and unlimited coinage of appreciation and affection.

If the organization could be effected long enough to sustain one strike there would never be another. The stopping of the entire domestic machinery of the world for even one day would be sufficient. Grievances thereafter would be promptly considered and concessions readily granted.

As it is now—

Mother is up first, starts breakfast calls father, dresses the children, washes the dishes, cleans, scrubs, dusts, gets dinner, sews, gets supper, dandies, undresses the children, sews—

A thousand and one things during the day, to say nothing of the hours of the night given over to sick children or fretted babes.

Eight hours?

There would be chaos in the domestic world if the mothers demanded even twice eight hours in a day.

And in all this, mind you—

Day after day, night after night, with the pull on her slender strength, the rasp on her frayed nerves, the drag on her vitality, the drain on her spirits, the working mother keeps sweet!

In the midst of countless interruptions and petty annoyances, despite the hard, unending, complex duties that would kill a man—

She is gentle and patient!

Can you blame her—this silent, faithful drudge—if she wants her pay?

Not an envelope on Saturday night, No, no; not that.

What, then?

The love and gratitude of those for whom she toils and suffers and sacrifices.

When you think of the loveless homes where she is not only denied her pay, but is abused besides, it makes you want to organize the union.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." A. J. Pellens.

He Needed the Job.

At a meeting of a state medical society the secretary read a letter from the consul of one of our faraway possessions urging the need of a resident physician in his district. In the moment of silence that followed the reading a young man in the hall arose and said modestly: "I wish you would put me down for that place, sir. It sounds good to me. My practice here died last night."—Success Magazine.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle, in their effects, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

Sperm Oil and Brass.

Sperm oil makes one of the best poultices to use on brasswork that is exposed to the weather.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

His Money.

Jack—I hear you had some money left you. Tom—Yes; it left me quite a while ago.—New York Herald

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

His Speculations.

"How did old Rox get rich?" "Speculating. He's been married four times."—Life.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1910.

The last census shows the fourth district has lost 11,200 in population. With the increase in population in Indiana an even distribution of the population with the number of districts remaining the same would be over 207,000 to the district. The fourth now has 167,286 population so that if the district is not greatly changed in the coming reapportionment, there will probably have to be another county or two added at least. The present basis of representation as fixed by congress is 194,182, but it is the belief that congress may increase that figure. This could not be done until after the coming reapportionment in Indiana and attention has been called to the fact that if congress changes Indiana's representation in congress the state will have to be redistricted again in two years.

J. T. Gardner was at Seymour Sunday calling on his old pastor Dr. W. O. Goodloe, who is in feeble health. The many warm friends here hope for his speedy recovery, and that he may be spared many more years of usefulness.—Scott County Journal.

CORRESPOND ON FREIGHT CAR

Clerks Have New Reciprocal Scheme
For Postcards.

Some of the clerks employed in a big manufacturing office on the lower end of Staten Island, New York, have instituted a new fad—that of correspondence by freight car. Upon the sides of cars that come into the yards of the company—and almost every railroad in the country is represented by the legends on the cars—the clerks write their names and addresses.

Not long after one string of cars leaves the yards picture postcards begin to come in from small towns all over the country and even in Canada addressed to those whose names were scrawled in chalk on the sides of the empties. The Staten Island clerks in turn send postcards to every address they find on the freight cars, and so the endless chain lengthens.

SOME SMOKE AT MICHIGAN.

University Student Heavy on Tobacco.
Also Chewing Gum.

A student in the University of Michigan who has a mania for finding out about everything on earth has just made the rounds of the different places where cigars, tobacco and cigarettes are sold and has found out that students at the university smoked in 1909 132,210 cigars, 33,180 boxes of cigarettes, 52,000 packages of smoking tobacco, including 30,000 packages of cigarette tobacco; 7,000 packages of cigarette paper and 6,850 cuts of chewing tobacco.

There were also sold 77,440 packages of chewing gum and 100,000 bars of nut chocolate, presumably consumed by the co-eds.

Texas Empire In Size.
None of the monarchies of Europe, with the exception of Russia, can show a larger area than that of Texas. She possesses 57,000 square miles more of territory than the kaiser's realm.

Vienna Closely Populated.
Forty-three per cent of the families of Vienna live in a single room each.

The Lyre Bird.

The fully developed male lyre bird is one of the most handsome and notable of the forms of bird life of Queensland. The contour of the bird, with its long neck and stout gallinaceous feet, is by no means unlike that of a peacock, and the wonderful tail, possessed only by the male birds, fulfills a corresponding role of vain display. The bird executes antics for a train of female admirers on a raised earthen mound. For a short period of the year, about January, the lyre bird loses its characteristic plumes and has to be content with the sober plumage of its mate.

THE LOVE OF GOLD.

Men pursue riches under the idea that their possession will set them at ease and above the world. But the law of association often makes those who begin by loving gold as a servant finish by becoming themselves its slaves, and independence without wealth is at least as common as wealth without independence.—Colton.

MODERN METHOD

Engineer Has Novel Scheme of Catching Quail.

Pat Graney, an engineer on the Pennsylvania lines, has a modern method of catching quail. Wednesday while he was coming south near Cornbrook at good rate of speed he saw a covey of quail on the track and as the engine came closer to the birds they became frightened and when they flew started towards the train. Engineer Graney made a grab for one as it flew past the cab window, and when he pulled his hand in the window found he had a fine quail. He showed the bird to a number of the local employe as evidence of the truth of his story.

Passengers on both steam and electric roads near here say they have frequently seen coveys of quail on the tracks. The birds seem to enjoy playing in the gravel between the crossties and it is not unusual for some of them to be dashed against the front of an engine or car and be killed. This thing of railroad engineers picking them out of the air, however, is something new in the hunting line.

THANKSGIVING GAME

Football Team of Local High School Will Play Brownstown Here.

The manager of the High School foot ball team has arranged for a Thanksgiving game in this city with the team of the Brownstown High School. These teams have already played two games both of which were won by the Brownstown boys, but the local team believes that they have a good chance to win the third game.

The team of the S. H. S. is fast in its playing but the individual players are light in weight and are thus at a disadvantage when they meet with heavier teams. Several new plays are being practiced, however, which it is believed will overcome the disadvantage of the light weight. The Thanksgiving game will be played on the grounds on West Second street.

Indiana Club.

The regular meeting of the Indiana Club this afternoon, which was held at the home of Mrs. Alpha Cox, on North Ewing street, was Guest Day, and each member of the Club invited one guest. After answering roll call with a Thanksgiving quotation, the following program was given:

Current Events, . . . Mrs. Adda Bush Paper: "In the Forties and Fifties" . . . Mrs. Harriet Tunley Original Thanksgiving Story . . .

 . . . Mrs. Stella Barbour Paper: "Thanksgiving Day" . . .

THE ADVICE OF A FRIENDGiven to Those Who Need It.

San Francisco, Cal.—"To anyone who is run-down or who needs a good blood purifier, I want to recommend Vinol the great cod liver and iron tonic. I was run-down, feeling badly and only weighed about 140 pounds. I took a course of Vinol—it purified my blood, gave me a fine appetite, and built me right up. Now I am well and strong, weigh 175 pounds, and, in fact, never feel better in my life." John S. Charles, 3264 17th St., San Francisco, Cal. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

Vinol is a delicious combination of the health-giving properties of the cod's liver, with the grease eliminated, and tonic iron added, blended in a mild medicinal wine.

If your blood is poor or sluggish, your appetite poor, your digestion weak or your vitality not up to the standard, or if you are suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchial troubles, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. It could not do what all these people claim it did for them if it was not honest. Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

AMAZING TRAIL OF ROBBERIES

Philadelphia Police Claim to Have Made Good Catch.

BOLD WORK OF TWO SERVANTS

After Working in Royal Palaces, With Large Profit to Themselves, It Is Said, Skilled Coachman and Maid Servant Transfer Their Operations to the Homes of Wealthy Families in This Country.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—An amazing trail of robberies is said to have marked the career of a man and woman arraigned before Magistrate Scott and held to await requisition from New York on one of the charges. This couple are said to number Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and members of several noble families in Europe among their victims, and to have concocted many of the schemes while in the employ of President Fallières of France at his chateau near Paris.

The man is John Dileta, and the woman is Idalia De Muelmeister, and they were arrested in this city. The couple are said to have robbed many wealthy families in this country. The police mention one robbery in Chicago of a necklace valued at $5,000, and the theft of jewelry valued at $3,000 from Mr. Kubie of Far Rockaway. What appeared to be a trifling mistake ended the chase after the couple. While Dileta is married and has a wife and four children in Belgium, the home of both, he led the woman arrested with him to believe that he was a single man, and had planned, it is said, to dispose of the plunder in this country and go to France, where they were to be married in the near future. The news that Dileta was married unnerved the woman, detectives assert, but she told them that despite the alleged deception of which she was the victim, she still loved him.

She informed the police that they first met at the chateau of President Fallières, outside the city of Paris, where she was employed as a domestic, and she fell in love with him. He worked as a coachman. He promised to marry her, and they left for Holland, where they obtained employment at the palace of Queen Wilhelmina. The police say that they have not learned how much they got at the Holland palace. From Holland they went to Germany, where they obtained employment with many wealthy families. From there they came to the United States sixteen months ago. They went to Chicago, from there to Argentine republic, then to New York and secured employment with Mr. Kubie, Dileta as a coachman and the woman as maid.

CHARGE OF PERJURY

Another Indictment Has Been Returned Against Robert E. Wilson.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Representative Robert E. Wilson, re-elected to the Illinois house, has been indicted again by the November grand jury on a charge of perjury. The true bill was an amplification of the old charge of perjury, based on the same testimony he gave before the May grand jury, when he denied having presided over a distribution of the "jackpot" July 15, 1909, in the Southern hotel at St. Louis. The indictment is another result of the charges made by C. A. White, that the seat of United States Senator Lorimer was obtained by bribery. The "jackpot" sessions were exposed by White in connection with his Lorimer charges.

Prussian Soldiers Must Pray.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—During a speech in the early part of his reign, the kaiser expressed the conviction that "a good soldier must be a good Christian."

When assisting Sunday at the introduction of a new army corps, Chaplain Leinz, chief chaplain of the emperor's guard, said the kaiser in an address to recruits on Nov. 9, on the occasion of their taking the oath of loyalty, used these words: "It is my wish that my soldiers shall say the Lord's prayer every day."

Customs Frauds Alleged.

New York, Nov. 17.—The seizure by United States Marshal Henkel of the effects of the firm of Joseph Brooke & Co., representatives of a large woolen firm that has headquarters in England, is the first move by federal officials against New York agencies of foreign firms that of late have been suspected of violation of the customs laws. The goods found in the store easily cover the $200,000 out of which the government claims it has been cheated.

Office Holding Comes High.

Boston, Nov. 17.—The successful campaign of Eugene N. Foss, the Democratic candidate for governor at last week's election, cost him $37,000, according to his sworn return, just filed. This is $20,000 more than was expended by Governor Eben S. Draper, who was defeated.

Thinks He Holds Record.

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 17.—A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. John Spitts made Clifford S. Vandemark of this city a grandfather at the age of thirty-three years. He thinks he breaks the state record.

Rousing Values In Winter Merchandise Of Assured Quality Beauty and Service

"After all" is said about merchandise, there is nothing so important as quality. GOETHALS WILL KEEP PROMISE

Engineer Says Canal Will Be Completed In 1915.

KEEPING WITHIN ESTIMATES

Not Only, Says Col. Goethals, Will the Great Inter-Ocean Ditch Be Completed on Time, but It May Be Ready For Test Trips a Year Earlier, and Not Only That, but Its Cost Will Be Kept Within the Sum Allotted.

Panama, Nov. 16.—Colonel Goethals has recommended to Mr. Taft that the canal be fortified by the military government of the canal zone, the army and navy to be represented on the fortification board and each branch to have control of matters pertaining to it. The navy is represented in the conferences now going on here by Rear Admiral Staunton and Captain Maxwell of the fortifications board. The naval officials favor the construction of a drydock and other necessary works. Colonel Goethals recommends that a drydock be built with the understanding that it may be used, not only by the navy, but by merchant vessels as well. He also recommends that the navy utilize for repair work, etc., the machine shops already built and in operation here.

Within the Estimates.

Colonel Goethals told Mr. Taft that the canal would be completed in 1915, and the cost would be kept within the estimate of $375,000,000. He believes that the waterway will be ready for the experimental passage of ships a year earlier, but he insists that before the canal is opened to the commerce of the world, a year should be devoted to testing purposes. The completion of the work depends on the situation at the Culebra cut.

Mr. Taft made a close inspection of the Gatun dam and was much pleased with the work done there. Today he is making an inspection of the Culebra cut, and he will also hear the complaints of employees who are paid by the hour, who are demanding higher wages. Mr. Taft thinks the employees are well paid. He will probably talk plainly to the delegation of workmen, and decline to authorize the granting of the demand.

Taft Enthusiastically Welcomed.

Mr. Taft last night delivered an address to the members of the Society of the Red Cross and the Young Men's Christian association. He was enthusiastically welcomed by the assemblage. Tonight he will speak at a dinner to be given in his honor by acting President Pablo Arosemena. It is rumored that he will take advantage of the occasion to put a quietus on the report that it is the intention of the United States to annex Panama. Mr. Taft will go aboard the Tennessee at Colon at 4 o'clock Thursday evening, and two hours later will sail for the American naval station at Guantanamo, Cuba, where he will arrive Saturday afternoon. A brief inspection, likely lasting three hours, will be made of the station, and then the Tennessee will sail for Hampton Roads.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or Nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

A PROPOSAL.

It Occurred at the Moment the Lady Wished It.

By JANE PINCKNEY BURNETT.
[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

Dr. Pitman was an excellent matrimonial catch in every way except in that of fortune. Socially he stood as high as any one can stand in American society. His manners were refined. He was not only conversant with conventional customs, but knew the social rights of every one. In his relations to others it would have been impossible for him to commit a social error. People whose education or instincts were not of the highest type would watch him at a dinner party or any social function and follow his lead. They knew he would not eat meat with his fish fork.

There was an exact counterpart of the doctor among the women of the place where he lived and practiced. A young widow, Mrs. Gwendolin Whiting, had a slight fluttering.

"Painful?"

"No."

"Disagreeable in any respect?"

"Rather pleasant."

"H'm!" said the doctor, withdrawing his touch upon the wrist, and bending down, with an apologetic "Excuse me," placing his ear over the heart, he listened for several minutes, then, rising, looked at the patient with an expression that was more than professionally sympathetic.

"I suppose," he said, "that there is no one very near or dear to you—that there is a void which needs to be filled. It is this that is affecting the action of your heart."

"I am sure your diagnosis is right, doctor. I am lonely. I have the means to acquire anything I wish except love."

This statement commanded the lady especially to the doctor's delicate sensibilities. Another woman might have put it bluntly, "One of the advantages of a man, especially a poor man, may derive from marrying me is my wealth." Instead of this harsh announcement Miss Whiting had said, "I have the means to acquire anything I wish except love." And another man would have made bold to interpret this as it was intended. Not so the refined Pitman. He ignored it, except in a professional sense.

"I think, dear Mrs. Whiting," he said encouragingly, "that what you need is not drugs. I found a slightly accelerated cardiac action when I listened to your heart beat just now and could give you a sedative, but I doubt that it is necessary. You need rather to mingle more with the world. We medical men are now inclined to build up the whole system rather than an affected part, the part deriving benefit from the whole and being thus strengthened to throw off the trouble. I wish you to cultivate such associations as are pleasing to you. If there is any one whom you wish to be with you a great deal yield to the longing. I need not say that in the case of so charming a woman!"

"Oh, doctor, how good of you!"

"Have you any engagement for tomorrow afternoon?"

"No."

"The first dose I shall give you is fresh air. I will call at 3 and take you to drive. Have you seen 'Lohengrin' with Mme. —— as Elsa?"

"I have not, doctor."

"I will secure seats for Wednesday night, and I wish you to continue my treatment in this respect during the season. Are you fond of flowers?"

"Passionately."

"I will leave an order at the pharmacy for the flower shop—for some roses to be sent in the morning."

"How lovely of you!"

"And now I must leave you to see a patient I was about to visit when your call came."

"A lady?"

"Yes; an elderly lady, a hypochondriac who tries me dreadfully. I shall prescribe for her, as in your case, not drugs but with a view to build up her system."

"What do you mean by that, doctor?"

"I shall send her off on a long trip."

Dr. Pitman kept his engagements with Mrs. Whiting—at least as soon as he had seen his hypochondriac patient safely off on an ocean liner, with a medicine chest made up by himself to suit her especial case—sent her flowers regularly, and each day his manner became more endearing. He was gradually leading up to a proposal that the widow knew was coming, that he knew she knew was coming, but between two persons of such delicate sensibilities must be made as a male angel would make it to a female angel, provided there were marriage and giving in marriage in heaven.

It came one October evening when Mrs. Whiting felt that she needed Dr. Pitman's professional services or Dr. Pitman, as the case may be. She was sitting before a fire of real blazing logs—Mrs. Whiting scorned to use any of those devices for imitating an open wood fire—dressed in a tea gown that was extremely becoming to her. She had been putting off Dr. Pitman's proposal until she felt exactly in the mood for it. Dr. Pitman, with exquisitely tact, aware that she desired to lead in the matter, left everything to her. He was no stupid blunderer to step in at the wrong moment and was prepared to speak when he received the signal. Nor was it necessary for the widow to make that signal inordinately plain. The doctor could breathe it in with the perfumed air that surrounded her lovely person.

Dr. Pitman had come in early and was dressed for the evening when he received a telephone call from Mrs. Whiting's maid that her mistress would like to have him come over if he could do so at once. In ten minutes he was with her, though he had stopped on the way for flowers. His part was discernible only by the firelight. Without rising she gave him her hand, and when she looked up at him there was that in her eyes which told him the hour had come. He retained her hand for a moment, returning her glance, while with his other hand he tossed the flowers he had brought into her lap.

Leaving his satchel in the hall, Dr. Pitman entered the room with the encouraging smile that was his invariable preliminary tonic in visiting a patient. The widow gave a feeble return of the smile and extended her hand, displaying to the elbow a shapeless arm. The doctor clasped the hand lightly in his own and placed the tips of the fingers of his other hand on the wrist.

"Slightly above normal," he said, "but no fever."

The physician then gave the patient a professional look with his large handsome eyes, which meant "tell me your symptoms." It was not usual with him to ask questions of his lady patients. He left them to give their information themselves.

"I was sitting in the library after dinner," said Mrs. Whiting, "when a singular feeling—well, it is best described as loneliness—came over me. I felt the need of a stimulant and drank a glass of wine. It did me no good. Indeed, the requirement was not a physical but a mental or rather spiritual one. I have never suffered any symptoms of melancholia, but I should fancy my feelings were of this order."

"Any unusual action of the heart?" asked the doctor, his finger tips still on the lady's wrist.

"Yes; a slight fluttering."

"Painful?"

"No."

"Disagreeable in any respect?"

"Rather pleasant."

"H'm!" said the doctor, withdrawing his touch upon the wrist, and bending down, with an apologetic "Excuse me," placing his ear over the heart, he listened for several minutes, then, rising, looked at the patient with an expression that was more than professionally sympathetic.

"I suppose," he said, "that there is no one very near or dear to you—that there is a void which needs to be filled. It is this that is affecting the action of your heart."

"I am sure your diagnosis is right, doctor. I am lonely. I have the means to acquire anything I wish except love."

This statement commanded the lady especially to the doctor's delicate sensibilities. Another woman might have put it bluntly, "One of the advantages of a man, especially a poor man, may derive from marrying me is my wealth." Instead of this harsh announcement Miss Whiting had said, "I have the means to acquire anything I wish except love." And another man would have made bold to interpret this as it was intended. Not so the refined Pitman. He ignored it, except in a professional sense.

Sunday.

In A. D. 313 the Emperor Constantine of Rome granted toleration to the Christians, and in 321 he gave imperial sanction to the observance of the first day of the week. The edict which introduced a new era in Sunday observance runs: "On the venerable day of the sun let the magistrate and people residing in cities rest and let all workshops be closed. In the country, however, persons engaged in the work of cultivation may freely and lawfully continue their pursuits, because it often happens that another day is not so suitable for grain sowing or for vine planting, lest by neglecting the proper moment for such operations the bounty of heaven should be lost."

Dandruff and Itching Scalp Yield to This Treatment.

Why experiment trying to drive the dandruff germ from underneath the skin with greasy lotions or fancy hair-dressing when A. J. Pellens' Drug Store will guarantee ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP to entirely rid the scalp of the germ life that causes the trouble.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP can be obtained in any city or town in America and are recognized the best and most economical treatment for all afflictions of the skin or scalp whether on infant or grown person. One shampoo with ZEMO SOAP and application of ZEMO will stop itching and cleanse the scalp of dandruff and seurf.

We invite you to try ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP and if not entirely satisfied we will refund your money.

Elevated Rivers.

The most elevated river in the world is the Desaguadero, in Bolivia. It is of a considerable depth, and its whole length, from the village Desaguadero, at the south extremity of Titicaca, to the north end of the lake Ullagras, is about 180 miles. The average elevation of the valley or tableland of Desaguadero above the level of the sea is about 13,000 feet. The river whose source lies highest is the Indus, which rises on the north of the Kailas Parbat mountain, in Tibet, 22,000 feet above sea level.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." A. J. Pellens.

A. Steinwedel's Friend-Making and Business Extension Sale

A Sale That Is Not To Make Money But To Make Friends

THE sole object of this sale is to induce men who have never worn STEINWEDEL'S Quality Clothes to try them, or, at least, to come and see the handsome new styles gathered here. We know that the extraordinary values we offer are worthy of your patronage, because they will save you money. We have tried to prove in type that these values are extraordinary and that it will be decidedly to your interests to let us clothe you but that is a difficult matter. We can prove it TO YOUR OWN SATISFACTION CONCLUSIVELY by the goods themselves. For this sale we sacrifice, the largest part of our profits for the sake of making new friends for this store and extending our business, for every garment we sell will be so unusually good that it will be just like sending some out to speak a good word for our clothing.
